DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

1. Claims 1-4 and 6-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US Patent No. 5,139,504 to Zelman.

Zelman discloses an instrument used for eye surgery that includes a gripping portion (10), small diameter instrument portion (14) and support member (40). The support member (40) includes a strut connected to a cylinder, as most clearly shown in Figure 3. Zelman states that the support is moveable relative to the instrument portion and has a control portion (44) (column 7, lines 25 to column 8).

Zelman states that the lumen of the instrument (14) has a diameter of 0.3mm-0.4mm (column 6, lines 46-48). Therefore, the outer diameter of the instrument (14) would be equivalent to 25 gauge. The cylindrical portion of the support member (40) would then have a size of about 20 gauge. Zelman fails to explicitly state that the small diameter portion (14) has a diameter less than 20 gauge. It would have been an obvious matter of design choice to form the instrument to have a diameter less than 20 gauge, since such a modification would have involved a mere change in the size of a component. A change in size is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art.

Art Unit: 3731

Regarding claim 10, Zelman simply fails to state that the support member (40) is made of stainless steel. Stainless steel is a common material for manufacturing various surgical instruments, because is well known in the art for its superior material properties. It is highly biocompatible, easily sterilized, and has good mechanical strength. Therefore, it would be obvious to form the Zelman support member from stainless steel.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-4 and 6-12 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

3. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
